

ALLISON LUPTON BAND

“The Allison Lupton Band brought their Canadian folk music across the Atlantic. Lupton’s voice is wonderful and was supported by the band from Ontario, Canada. This band would be a high-light at any festival”. - Dick Dixon, Warwick Folk Festival Director, Warwick, UK

“It was such a pleasure to welcome Allison and her band, all fabulous musicians in their own right, to Lewis. Wonderful varied performances which were thoroughly well received.”
Caroline MacLennan, Artistic Director, HebCelt Festival, Scotland

Allison Lupton writes and performs music that shows many influences, from Canadian, Scottish and Irish traditional songs and fiddle tunes to sweet bluegrass harmonies and stories from her rural Ontario childhood.

A superb singer and an accomplished flute player, Allison leads an all-star band including veteran of the Canadian folk scene Ian Bell, acclaimed bass player Denis Rondeau, CCBA’s Mandolin Player of the Year Andrew Collins, and Canadian & U.S. Fiddle Champion Shane Cook. They delight listeners with beautiful traditional and contemporary folk songs and fiddle tunes that take you away to another time and then dance you home again.

Allison’s music has taken her to concert and festival stages in Canada and the UK and has garnered CFMA nominations, and the Grand Prize in FMO’s Songs From the Heart competition in 2015.

“Allison has a beautiful, clear singing voice and the ability to tell a story with her flute.”
Stuart McLean, The Vinyl Cafe, CBC Radio

“Allison Lupton’s balance of strong composition and sensitive musicality makes her a fine contemporary songwriter and interpreter of the tradition and the works of her fellow songsmiths.” - Archie Fisher
