ALLISON LUPTON

Words of Love

"Allison Lupton's balance of strong composition and sensitive musicality makes her a fine contemporary songwriter and interpreter of the tradition and the works of her fellow songsmiths." Archie Fisher

"Ontario's Allison Lupton gives us songs and tunes steeped in history, love, sadness and joy. Her latest work "Words of Love" Is a musical document deeply rooted in who and what we are as Canadians." Andy Donnelly, CKUA, The Celtic Show

Allison Lupton's newest album, "Words of Love" showcases her original material, songs which fit so perfectly into the cannon of Canadian folk music that they could easily be mistaken for traditional numbers. Along with a brilliant lineup of musicians, Lupton brings to life the best of the contemporary folk music scene in Ontario, while incorporating the Celtic influences that have been such an important part of the Canadian immigrant story as well as her own musical path.

Allison leads all-star band including Andrew Collins (mandolin), Shane Cook (fiddle), Tony McManus (guitar), Joseph Phillips (bass) and Ivan Rosenberg (dobro), They delight listeners with beautiful traditional and contemporary folk songs and tunes that take you away to another time, then dance you home again.

Meet Allison

After working with various bands including Killiecrankie, Cambridge, Ontario musician Allison Lupton began releasing music under her own name in 2001 with her debut album "My True Love". The album launched her solo career, performing across Canada, the United States, and the UK. Allison has since recorded 4 solo CDs and in 2015 was awarded Folk Music Ontario's Songs From The Heart Grand Prize for her song "One More Day". Allison has been honoured with nominations by the Canadian Folk Music Awards including most recently (2020) "Traditional Singer of the Year".

Contact

info@allisonlupton.com   www.allisonlupton.com